AFTER A JUICY SUM.

THE SANTA FE SUEED FOR TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.

John R. Johnson Wants That Sum for Injuries Sustained—Granville Harrison Knocked Out—Other District Court Matters.

The Santa Fe railroad corporation is on deck to a large extent in district court this week, attending to the wants of injured persons who allege that they were hurt while in the employ of that road and therefore want damages.

Yesterday the greater portion of the day in court was devoted to the case of John R. Johnson vs. the Santa Fe. WANTS TEN THOUSAND.

In the month of February, 1891, Johnson, who is a barber, boarded a freight train about two miles north of this city in order to ride to Guthrie to attend his sick wife. According to testimony adduced he got into a box car and paid to the brakeman $1 for fare.

As the train neared the depot platform in this city Johnson either jumped or was jolted from the box car onto the ground. As to how he left the car testimony is conflicting, but at any rate he reached the ground in an ungraceful manner. One of his legs was cut off and he sustained severe injuries. He prays for $10,000 damages. J. R. Keaton represents the plaintiff and Asp. Shartel & Cottingham the defendants. The testimony was all in last evening and the case will be given to the jury to-day.

HARRISON KNOCKED OUT.

In the case of Granville Harrison, the colored blacksmith against the Santa Fe railroad, a detailed account of which was given in yesterday's LEADER, the court instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant, holding that the railroad is not responsible for the acts or negligence of its employees and fellow servants. Harrison wanted $5,000 damages. Attorney Baker will carry the case to the supreme court.

OSBORN CASE REPLEVIN SUIT.

The jury in the case of Isaac Osborn vs. Benjamin case, replevin suit, returned a verdict for the plaintiff. This case was taken to the district court on an appeal from Justice Jamison and was an action to recover the possession of a horse.

FINED TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS.

Colonel W. A. Sturgeon of Perry was served with an injunction yesterday to enjoin him from interfering with the rights and prerogatives of one Smith, whose given name is probably John. Sturgeon wouldn't "in-junct" worth a cent and in consequence he was jerked up before Judge Daer and given the dose of d. d.

CROSS IS BOOMING.

Railroad Boys Investing Extensively in Realty in the New Town.

Since this location of the end of the division at Cross the railroad boys are investing quite extensively in Cross property. $50,000 worth of property having been purchased by the railroad men yesterday. Contracts were let yesterday for the construction of over 100 buildings. The railroad men are quite satisfied that Cross will obtain not only the division headquarters, but the shops now located at Arkansas City; and it is on this account that they are investing so heavily in Cross property.

Cross has a remarkable record for a new town in a new country. There has never been any drunken carousals in the town, although there are eight or ten saloons here. There has never been any fighting, and no shooting to speak of; in fact, a more orderly and law abiding community there has never been, even in the older states. The class of people which settled in Cross of course, accounts for this.

Water is abundant in and about Cross, and there has been plenty of water from the very first. It is obtained at from twenty to forty feet and is pure, soft water, especially adapted for steam purposes.

The finest building rock in the world lies in unlimited quantities within one-half mile of the city. It is a fine white limestone.

A census is about to be taken, which will show in the neighborhood of 1,800 people there. The city will be organized as soon as it is possible under the Oklahoma laws.

CITY SOLONS TALK.

The city council met in regular session last night, with Mayor McElhinney in the chair and the following Councilmen present: Berkeley, Kaylor, Wilbur, Todd, Lynda, Taylor, Blas, Snyder and Richmond of the Fourth. The special committee on investigation was instructed to turn in a report by next meeting.

The committee on public improvements reported that the bridge southwest of the city near the university was in a dangerous condition. It was ordered closed.

The council ordered several more cross walks to be built.

The fire committee was instructed to purchase a set of swinging harness for the fire department. It was announced that the fire inspector would have a special rate of insurance a week from next Saturday.

It was ordered that a hose reel be placed in West Guthrie and that a house be built for its shelter.

The council talked, talked and wasted lots of wind in regard to the city warrants and the warrants will be marketed at once.

Councilman Blas preferred written charges against City Attorney Pancoast, alleging that he was derelict in his duties. Pancoast made a sweeping denial of all charges. The motion to have a committee investigate the charges was killed and the matter was hurriedly dropped, when Councilman Taylor began talking of stomach pumps and fire apparatus.

Awful Crimes of Poets.

Major McNamara and Arthur Stiles, consort of Wally Ong, have formed a copartnership and will collaborate in the poetry business. The LEADER believes in fostering infant poetic industries, and herewith publishes the first "Hail" of these Homeric individuals:

THE LOVE THAT COULD NOT STAND,
Do you remember, sweetheart,
When last I clasped your hand?
It was then my heart did fail me,
And my love could no longer stand,
To see the one I love so dear,
To part from this fond heart alone,
To see the one I love so dear,
And to leave me abroad to roam.

Oh, darling, darling, to believe me,
I wish you to be near,
But if you fall and deceive me,
I'll wipe away my tear.

MAJOR McNAMARA,
ARTHUR STILES, Poets.
